

For Immediate Release: 22nd March 2018

The way to “PAX JAPONICA”

- A Speech by TAKEO HARADA, a former Japanese career diplomat and CEO/Representative of IISIA

A High-level Networking Event on 11th April 2018 3pm-5.30pm

TAKEO HARADA, a former Japanese career diplomat and founder & CEO of the leading consulting firm / think tank called IISIA in Japan will deliver a speech on “PAX JAPONICA”, taking a place at “XNode JingAn” on 11th April 2018, being hosted by IISIA, cooperated by LID Publishing, the fifth largest publishing house in Europe.

East Asia around Japan has long been a crucially important region in world politics and economics, particularly with the rise of PRC, which is likely to become the world’s largest economy in the next twenty years.

Now with tensions rising in Far East, TAKEO HARADA explains that “PAX JAPONICA” is going to be the key to understand how Global Community can overcome the world-widely facing issues which is frequently discussed as the global agenda in UN and many other related global leading communities.

Japan, as an early experiencing country facing the global issues such as declining birth rate, climate change, sovereign debt, new poverty, nuclear safety, is drawing attention from the world basing on the fact that these are the very issues of SDGs adopted by UN. TAKEO HARADA explains that the way how Japan challenges and overcome these issues by 2020 could be a role model of the global communities, which would be the key to the PAX JAPONICA.

As an only member from Japan to ICC CEO Advisory group, serving to many related global organizations, TAKEO HARADA would like to discuss thematic areas along above challenges.
